

Average Boat Rental Prices in Split

If you have decided to charter a boat for a cruising trip from Split, you will need to know the cost of renting a vessel. From Split, you can sail to the Dalmatian Islands, or you can explore this part of the Mediterranean coast.

There are 355 vessels for charter in Split. This includes motorboats, sailing yachts, catamarans, gullets, and crewed luxury motor yachts. The chart below (g1) details the number of boats on offer according to the number of cabins they have. The largest number of boats have 5 - 6 cabins, then 3, then 4, then 2, and finally, 7 - 9. A cabin generally has 2 berths and there are often another 2 berths in the salon. It is important to remember this when deciding which size boat to charter. (g1)

The following table (t2) shows the average price of chartering a boat in Split according to the number of cabins. The cheapest are boats with 3 cabins and the most expensive, 7 - 9 cabins. The reason that 2-cabin boats are more expensive than 3 is that in this segment, there are mainly motorboats included. They are more expensive than sailboats and this influences the rise of the average price for this segment. The smallest difference between high and low prices is for boats with both 2 and 4 cabins, while the highest is for vessels with 7 - 9 cabins.

When chartering a boat, the price relies on the vessel, not on the number of people that will be sailing in it. If you are looking to cut costs, we will now look at the rental price per person when the maximum number of people are on board.

The average rental price per person by the number of cabins is shown in Table 3 (t3). This shows that the most expensive boat to charter is one with 5 - 6 cabins. This is followed by boats with 7 - 9 cabins, then 4, then 2, and finally, 3. So, if there are 6 - 8 of you, you are best choosing a vessel with 3 cabins.
